

Intema Solution Inc. signs a major agreement with marketing automation firm LeadFox Technology Inc.

MONTREAL, February 15 2018 -- Intema Solutions Inc. ("Intema" or the "Company") (TSXV: ITM) announced that it has recently signed an agreement with marketing automation firm LeadFox Technology to provide a long-term licence of its email application.

This agreement will enable LeadFox to use Intema as its backend email compliant powering solution. The agreement is for more than 500,000,000 emails. LeadFox and Intema plan to work closer for other projects in the future.

Intema brings to LeadFox its knowhow in the email sphere and its professional support. Intema will not be in contact with LeadFox's customer, as it will act as a backend provider of email and infrastructure. LeadFox chose to work with Intema after having compared other USA based competitors of Intema.

"We are proud to have been selected by LeadFox as a major provider to support their email solution. This encourages us to continue to develop our set of applications and to increase our efforts to make our software an unmatched email tool on the market," said Sebastien Plourde, vice-president of Intema.

"Working with the people at Intema will be a great experience; their deep knowledge of email will only make us a better provider of marketing automation to our present and future customers" said Alex Paquet, president of LeadFox.
